GENDER EQUALITY PLAN

2023-2025

Tirana March, 2023

Introduction

Agricultural University of Tirana (AUT) is the most important higher education institution in Albania that provides the future generations with relevant knowledge, sound expertise, and appropriate skills to address this perspective and accompany the agricultural transformation. AUT comprises thousands of enrolled students and several hundred staff members who teach students and also conduct research on a wider range of topics in areas such as Agricultural Science, Agricultural Economics, Agribusiness, Food and Nutrition, Forestry, Veterinary Science, etc.

The mission of the AUT is focused on the need for the change and transformation and the creation of real capacities worth to society. AUT is one of the most complete educational centers in the country in terms of infrastructure and logistics capacity.

Considering the essential position that agriculture and rural development play in the Albanian society – 50 percent of the 2.8 million inhabitants of the country live in rural areas and almost 20 percent of the country's GDP¹, as well as more than 40 percent of overall employment relate to the agricultural and food sector – the AUT can thus also be defined as a very crucial actor for creating the model and transferring it to the society, in the center of which lies the promotion of equality values, as well.

AUT complies with the principles of the European Charter for Higher Education based on the European Credits Transfer System (ECTS) and the American Credit System (USCs). This has enabled graduating students to obtain a diploma which is recognized worldwide, facilitating this way study advancement and employability. Agricultural University of Tirana is committed to remove all of the institutional, structural and individual discrimination that may contribute to inequalities. AUT aims to create a more diverse and inclusive university environment and through this document, intends to implement standards of individual rights and gender equality.

Our commitment

The University is committed to embedding Gender Equality across all units and this plan reflects its commitment and contribution toward the gender equality in higher education. Agricultural University of Tirana (AUT), founded in 1951 is a public university composed of 565 staff out of which 57.8% are female and the rest male. Additionally, AUT has 301 academic staff where 53% are female and 47% male. There are approximately 6500 enrolled in AUT, out of which 55.4% are female and 44.6% are male. AUT consist of 5 faculties, structured in 21 constituent units.

The Law on Gender Equality (2008) in Albania has brought together and harmonized equality legislation. Regarding AUT, the legislation reflects anti-discrimination in students and staff related to age, disability, gender, marriage, pregnancy and maternity, race, sexual orientation, religion and belief.

Gender inequalities situation in higher education in Albania can be measured by examining indicators such as higher education students' gender, degrees awarded and promotion to women each year, the levels of education attained by men and women and, lastly, the differences between the subjects studied by men and women. This document drafted as an action plan, aims to serve to this purpose. In addition, this plan seeks to promote academic progress through development of university equality policies combatting evident and hinted forms of discrimination.

Through its objectives and specific actions, The Gender Equality Plan (GEP) of AUT aims to overcome gender gaps and structural barriers in, learning, research and innovation and to create a safe and inclusive environment for the university community.

This plan describes AUT approach and commitment to equal opportunities, encompasses the grounds of gender discrimination and the social background. This document is based on three main pillars:

1. Resources for implementing gender equality plan;
2. Monitoring and evaluation of gender equality dimension;
3. Training and awareness - raising actions on gender equality dimension.

The plan comprises objectives, activities and measurable indicators that the university will implement during 2023-2025, the responsible bodies and persons for each activity, as well as indicators and targets for each goal. The plan also addresses coherent measures aligned with the Council of Europe Gender Equality Strategy [2018-2023] and the United Nations 2030 Sustainable Development Goals, as an instrument to help reverse social economic and cultural inequalities and promote gender equality.

AUT gender Equality Plan composition and strategic goals

The core benefits of equality and diversity in higher education include, positive changes in the quality of research and teaching, the improvement of the research and scientific performance of the institution in a competitive environment, improved dialogue and exchange of ideas to greater inclusiveness and a sense of community. Equality and diversity in the sciences and higher education also reflect on people's feelings of well-being at work and during their academic path. Equality policies support the development of sound procedures and help create a better working environment while also attracting and retaining academic talent.

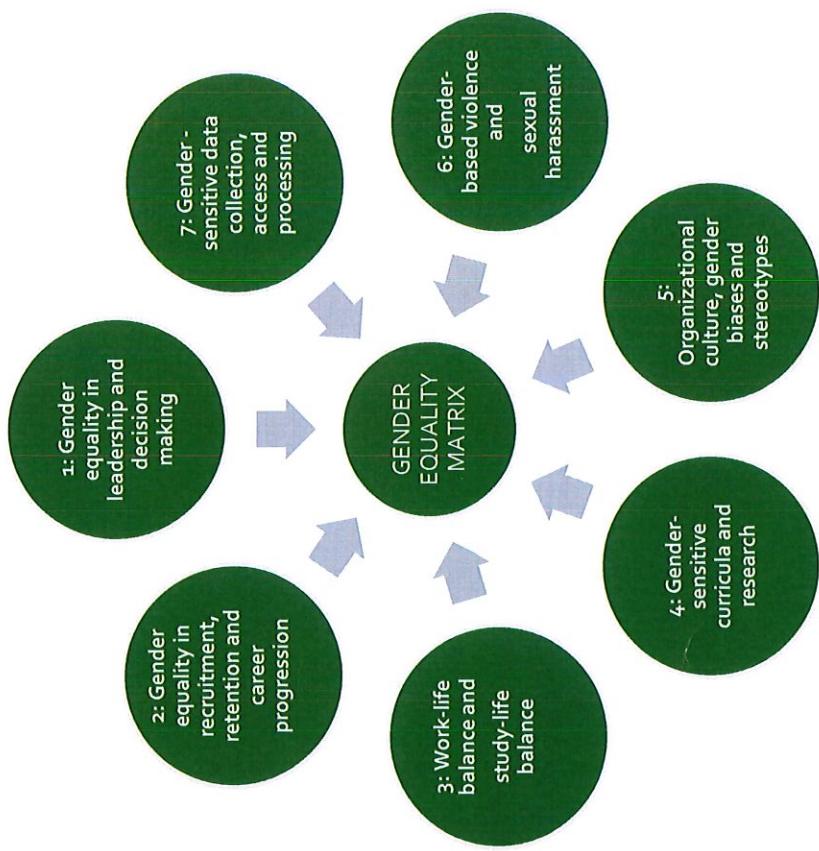

The AUT focus of the Gender Equality Plan 2023-2025 is based on seven key priority areas:

- 1: Gender equality in leadership and decision making
- 2: Gender equality in recruitment, retention and career progression
- 3: Work-Life balance and study-life balance
- 4: Gender sensitive curricula and research
- 5: Organizational culture, gender biases and stereotypes
- 6: Gender based violence and sexual harassment
- 7: Gender - sensitive data collection, access and processing

AUT GENDER EQUALITY PLAN (2023-2025)

The AUT Gender Equality Plan 2023-2025 is valid for AUT from 1st of January 2023 until the 31st of December of 2025, or until approval of the next Gender Equality Plan in the Academic Year 2025/26, whatever happens the latest. The Senate approves the academic components of the Gender Equality Plan, while Senior Leadership Team approves the administrative components.
